

murrayaltham

Our next speaker is a Mindset Coach with a global client base who's adventures in working with people go from heart stopping to hilarious!

Murray is convinced people are always better than they think they are so today, you are about to learn three game-changing mindset tools, you can immediately use, to propel your life forward in spectacular ways!

Today Murray is going to tell us...

- What the mind-bending Japanese Watermelon industry can teach us about change
- How the language of excellence will transform your potential
- When to use the secret, hidden in plain sight, behind the fastest person in the world

Please welcome to the stage our guest speaker, Murray Altham